

Page Denied

Next 2 Page(s) In Document Denied

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

22 March 1985

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

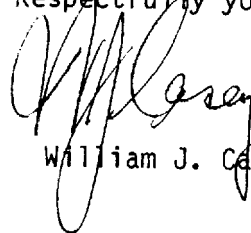

Dear Mr. President:

Enclosed is a copy of my Annual Report to the Congress on the Intelligence Community for calendar year 1984. This is the eighth such report prepared for Congress as required by Senate Resolution 400 and House Resolution 658.

I wanted to convey two messages in this year's report. First, we have made considerable progress in rebuilding the Intelligence Community's capabilities and we are now in a much improved position to respond to national security needs than we were four years ago. On the other hand, we face a number of especially challenging problems that necessitate sustained investment in the Intelligence Community. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

I believe that this report provides the Congress a more complete understanding and appreciation of the full range of challenges facing the Intelligence Community. Our success in meeting these challenges will be possible only with continued Congressional support.

Respectfully yours,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

25X1

25X1

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to the President re Transmitting the DCI's Annual Report to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/A w/att

25X1

Original - Addressee

2 - DCI

3 - DDCI (ER File)

4 - D/ICS

5 - LLS

6 - D/PPS

7 - PPS Chrono

8 - PPS Subject

9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS, (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET

TOP SECRET
The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

22 March 1985

The Vice President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

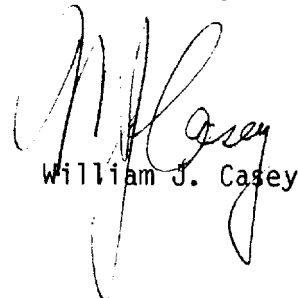

Dear Mr. Vice President:

Enclosed is a copy of my Annual Report to the Congress on the Intelligence Community for calendar year 1984. This is the eighth such report prepared for Congress as required by Senate Resolution 400 and House Resolution 658.

I wanted to convey two messages in this year's report. First, we have made considerable progress in rebuilding the Intelligence Community's capabilities and we are now in a much improved position to respond to national security needs than we were four years ago. On the other hand, we face a number of especially challenging problems that necessitate sustained investment in the Intelligence Community. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

I believe that this report provides the Congress a more complete understanding and appreciation of the full range of challenges facing the Intelligence Community. Our success in meeting these challenges will be possible only with continued Congressional support.

Respectfully yours,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

25X1

25X1

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to the Vice President re Transmitting the DCI's Annual Report
to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/B w/att)

25X1

Original - Addressee

2 - DCI

3 - DDCI (ER File)

4 - D/ICS

5 - LLS

6 - D/PPS

7 - PPS Chrono

8 - PPS Subject

9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET

TOP SECRET

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

22 March 1985

The Honorable Lee H. Hamilton
Chairman
Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

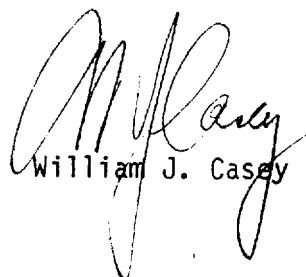

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Enclosed is a copy of my 1984 Annual Report to the Congress. During these past four years, with the support of the Administration and the Congress, the Intelligence Community has realized significant, necessary growth. The result is a more robust intelligence system today than ever before in our history.

We face, however, a number of especially challenging problems. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

To meet these challenges and to provide the timely and accurate intelligence essential for devising and effectively executing a sound foreign policy requires sustained investments in the Intelligence Community. Our FY 1986 budget request that you are currently reviewing is an essential element in these investments. Your continued support is vitally important.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

25X1

25X1

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to Hamilton, HPSCI re Transmitting the DCI's Annual Report
to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/C w/att)

25X1

Original - Addressee

2 - DCI

3 - DDCI (ER File)

4 - D/ICS

5 - LLS

6 - D/PPS

7 - PPS Chrono

8 - PPS Subject

9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

22 March 1985

The Honorable Dave Durenberger
Chairman
Senate Select Committee on Intelligence
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

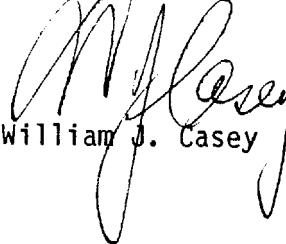

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Enclosed is a copy of my 1984 Annual Report to the Congress. During these past four years, with the support of the Administration and the Congress, the Intelligence Community has realized significant, necessary growth. The result is a more robust intelligence system today than ever before in our history.

We face, however, a number of especially challenging problems. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

To meet these challenges and to provide the timely and accurate intelligence essential for devising and effectively executing a sound foreign policy requires sustained investments in the Intelligence Community. Our FY 1986 budget request that you are currently reviewing is an essential element in these investments. Your continued support is vitally important.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to Durenberger, SSCI re Transmitting the DCI's Annual Report
to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/D w/att)

25X1

Original - Addressee

2 - DCI

3 - DDCI (ER File)

4 - D/ICS

5 - LLS

6 - D/PPS

7 - PPS Chrono

8 - PPS Subject

9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS, (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET

TOP SECRET

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D. C. 20505

22 March 1985

The Honorable Jamie Whitten
Chairman
Committee on Appropriations
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

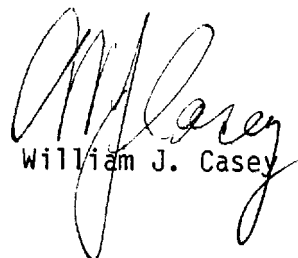

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Enclosed is a copy of my 1984 Annual Report to the Congress. During these past four years, with the support of the Administration and the Congress, the Intelligence Community has realized significant, necessary growth. The result is a more robust intelligence system today than ever before in our history.

We face, however, a number of especially challenging problems. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

To meet these challenges and to provide the timely and accurate intelligence essential for devising and effectively executing a sound foreign policy requires sustained investments in the Intelligence Community. Our FY 1986 budget request that you are currently reviewing is an essential element in these investments. Your continued support is vitally important.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to Whitten, HAC re Transmitting the DCI's Annual Report
to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/E w/att)

25X1

Original - Addressee

2 - DCI

3 - DDCI (ER File)

4 - D/ICS

5 - LLS

6 - D/PPS

7 - PPS Chrono

8 - PPS Subject

9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET

TOP SECRET

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

22 March 1985

The Honorable Mark O. Hatfield
Chairman
Committee on Appropriations
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

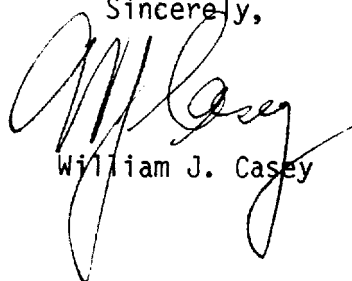

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Enclosed is a copy of my 1984 Annual Report to the Congress. During these past four years, with the support of the Administration and the Congress, the Intelligence Community has realized significant, necessary growth. The result is a more robust intelligence system today than ever before in our history.

We face, however, a number of especially challenging problems. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

To meet these challenges and to provide the timely and accurate intelligence essential for devising and effectively executing a sound foreign policy requires sustained investments in the Intelligence Community. Our FY 1986 budget request that you are currently reviewing is an essential element in these investments. Your continued support is vitally important.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to Hatfield, SAC re Transmitting the DCI's Annual Report
to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/F w/att)

25X1

Original - Addressee

- 2 - DCI
- 3 - DDCI (ER File)
- 4 - D/ICS
- 5 - LLS
- 6 - D/PPS
- 7 - PPS Chrono
- 8 - PPS Subject
- 9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS, (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

22 March 1985

The Honorable Joseph P. Addabbo
Chairman
Subcommittee on Defense
Committee on Appropriations
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

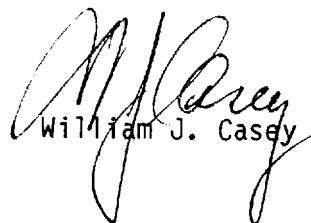

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Enclosed is a copy of my 1984 Annual Report to the Congress. During these past four years, with the support of the Administration and the Congress, the Intelligence Community has realized significant, necessary growth. The result is a more robust intelligence system today than ever before in our history.

We face, however, a number of especially challenging problems. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

To meet these challenges and to provide the timely and accurate intelligence essential for devising and effectively executing a sound foreign policy requires sustained investments in the Intelligence Community. Our FY 1986 budget request that you are currently reviewing is an essential element in these investments. Your continued support is vitally important.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to the Addabbo, HAC, Defense Sub, re Transmitting the DCI's
Annual Report to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/G w/att)

25X1

Original - Addressee
2 - DCI
3 - DDCI (ER File)
4 - D/ICS
5 - LLS
6 - D/PPS
7 - PPS Chrono
8 - PPS Subject
9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS, (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET

The Director of Central Intelligence

Washington, D.C. 20505

22 March 1985

The Honorable Ted Stevens
Chairman
Subcommittee on Defense
Committee on Appropriations
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

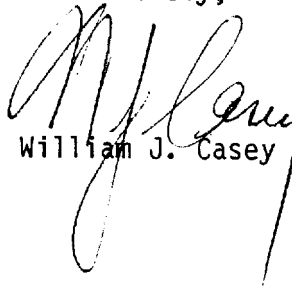

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Enclosed is a copy of my 1984 Annual Report to the Congress. During these past four years, with the support of the Administration and the Congress, the Intelligence Community has realized significant, necessary growth. The result is a more robust intelligence system today than ever before in our history.

We face, however, a number of especially challenging problems. The traditional targets such as the USSR are becoming increasingly difficult to cover and require additional effort just to maintain current capabilities. At the same time, increased demand by policymakers for more comprehensive intelligence in relatively new areas of concern like terrorism, narcotics, and technology transfer, together with a need to improve the survivability of our intelligence assets in times of crisis or war, have created unprecedented requirements on our personnel and material resources.

To meet these challenges and to provide the timely and accurate intelligence essential for devising and effectively executing a sound foreign policy requires sustained investments in the Intelligence Community. Our FY 1986 budget request that you are currently reviewing is an essential element in these investments. Your continued support is vitally important.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey

Enclosure:
As Stated

25X1

25X1

TOP SECRET

SUBJECT: Letter to Stevens, SAC, Defense Sub. re Transmitting the DCI's
Annual Report to the Congress

DISTRIBUTION: (DCI/ICS 85-4222/H w/att)

25X1

Original - Addressee

2 - DCI

3 - DDCI (ER File)

4 - D/ICS

5 - LLS

6 - D/PPS

7 - PPS Chrono

8 - PPS Subject

9 - ICS Registry

25X1

25X1

DCI/ICS, (8 March 1985)

TOP SECRET